2008 Summer Reading Program a Booming Success!

Wow, what a great program we had this year!! Catch the Reading Bug! was an even bigger success than last year's program. There were 113 kids registered, compared to 78 in 2007, & our weekly programs brought in over 370 people, compared to just over 100 in 2007! The kids program kicked off with a fun craft day & ended with an equally fun visit from talented storyteller, Rob Reid. (See our website for photos.) The excellent staff from Beaver Creek stopped by for two great "hands-on" programs, one on butterflies & another on water bugs where kids had a chance to get up close and personal with lots of bugs & other little critters. Local teens enjoyed our first-ever teen reading program with teen crafts, Rock Band and Guitar Hero events, & a visit from Fall Creek teen author, Cayla Kluver. Many hours of summer reading were logged and lots of prizes given for a job well done. Thank you to all the readers, parents, volunteers, performers, & other participants who helped make the 2008 Summer Reading Program our best yet! We're looking forward to more reading fun in 2009.

Book and Bake Sale!

The June Book and Bake Sale was once again a huge hit. We made $676.98, a figure that totaled over $1,100 with matching funds from Thrivent. We hope to do it again on Saturday, December 6 from 9:00-1:00 p.m. A good selection of donated and discarded fiction and nonfiction books will be available by donation along with delicious baked goods prepared by volunteers and friends of the library. Since this is a major fundraising event for the library, if you can help in any way, we would appreciate it! A sign-up sheet for baking or volunteering to work one of the shifts on Saturday is posted in the library. THANK you for your help and donations!

Thanks

To everyone who donated books, videos, DVDs, postage stamps, copy paper, cleaning supplies, envelopes, children's craft supplies and anything else to the library. And especially to those who give of their time. Thank you. Your gifts are very much appreciated!

Book Discussion Group

The Fall Creek Library Book Discussion Group will continue meeting and discussing books on Thursday evenings. We are reading a wide variety of fiction and nonfiction books to fit the interests of the members. Our group has lively discussions with lots of social interaction and sharing of ideas. We welcome any reader to join us in our book discussions.

Chosen books are available in the library and meeting dates are posted for the upcoming discussion. Our next meetings are all on Thursdays at 6:45 p.m.: September 18, November 6, and December 11. Stop in to check on our next selected reading. Join the Book Discussion Group for an educational and entertaining evening!
